—NSEA Convention—

3,500 Teachers Expected

First-Day Registration At 400-Per-Hour Clip

An estimated 3,000 teachers had registered for the District One convention of the Nebraska State Education Association Thursday, but officials predicted the final total would reach 3,500 by the closing session Friday in Lincoln. District conventions are being held at Omaha, Hastings, Norfolk, Chadron, and McCook with total registration expected to reach 12,000, making the 1952 convention the largest ever.

In Lincoln, 1,700 registrants were added to the pre-convention total of 1,300 as a "package method of registration" moved up. The package method included an hour Thursday morning past registration desks. Maximum time required was ten minutes, and officials agreed it was the smoothest operation yet.

Balloting on the District One officers and the constitutional amendment closed at 4 p.m. Thursday. Election results will be announced at the Friday morning general session at the University of Nebraska coliseum.

District One candidates are: President—Florence Jenkins, Lincoln, and E. A. Schaad, Sutton. Vice-President—Harold Reed, Hebron, and Wilma Sawyer, Beatrice. Secretary—Elizabeth Belka, Crete, and Ruth Black, Chester. Treasurer—Jah Couch, Exeter, and Elva Hayden, Fairbury. Executive committee—Lewis F. Fowler, York, and M. L. Christiansen, Geneva.

The proposed constitutional amendment would give the district president authority to name a nominating committee. State NSEA officers will be elected at the annual meeting Dec. 5-6 in Lincoln. State President is Charles O. Marshall of Kearney. Thursday the teachers made brief shopping expeditions between attendance at general and divisional and section meetings. With packages and bundles in hand, teachers attended various meetings and one speaker, looking at his watch, promised to conclude his remarks early so that his listeners could do some late afternoon shopping.

Teachers Treated To Music Program

Following a day of business sessions, District One teachers were treated to an evening of musical entertainment, provided by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

More than 500 teachers attended the concert at the University of Nebraska Coliseum, featuring the "American Artists Ensemble," a mixed voice octette from Chicago.

Under the direction of Ray G. Steiner, basso, the group presented selections ranging from pop songs to operatic arias.

The program featured a medley from Kern's "Show Boat," "Goodnight Quartette" from Flotow's opera "Martha," and selections from Rogers and Hart's "Carouse" and "New Moon."

Composing the ensemble were Gloria Lind, soprano and featured soloist; Sylvia Saunders, soprano; Loraine Quinn, contralto; Grace Prince, second soprano and pianist; David Johnson, top tenor; Lawrence Lane, second tenor; John Irish, baritone; and Director Steiner.

AFL Leaflets For Crosby Circulated

OMAHA (AP)—Leaflets being circulated by the American Federation of Labor recommending voting for Robert Crosby, Republican candidate for governor.

This represented a change in AFL attitude since 1950 when it endorsed Democrat Walter Raelcke who opposed Gov. Val Peterson. Raelcke is also the Democratic candidate this year.

HST Gets Jubilant Welcome Upon Return To Washington

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Truman received a jubilant ovation as he returned to Washington Thursday at the end of a whirlwind campaign swing through Pennsylvania and other mid-Atlantic states. Thousands of cheering Washingtonians met the President at Union Station, with banners and flags waving—a band playing martial tunes.

The President looked extremely fit despite his 18-hour-a-day schedule of dozens of whistle-stops and major speeches. Mr. Truman expressed surprise and appreciation for the welcome, and proceeded to make one more "whistle-stop" talk from the rear platform of his special train.

The President told the cheering crowd, estimated by police at between three and four thousand, that he is "not through" with the Republicans yet—and I won't be through with them until the Fourth of November.

Mr. Truman starts out again Sunday night on a campaign tour in which he will make nearly 60 speeches through the Midwest and Great Lakes states that will carry him right up to election time. Mr. Truman lashed out again at the Republican opposition, including what he described as "one-party" press.

Several thousand persons were gathered outside the station and cheered the President as he and Mrs. Truman drove away to the White House in an open car.

Raelcke, Ike Head Knife, Fork Polls

Knife & Fork club at their annual Ladies Night Thursday took a political poll, unusual in the fact that the votes of men and women were kept separate.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Walter Raelcke had a total vote of 50 to 31 for Robert Crosby with the men voting 28 to 13 and the women cutting down the percentage of margin with a vote of 22 to 18 in favor of Raelcke.

On the vote for choice for president the men and women followed closer lines with Eisenhower favored 53 to 28. The men voted 27 to 14 and the women 26 to 14.

The poll, as with all polls, had undecided or not voting about 20 of those present.

$110 Fine, 30-Day Sentence Is Levied

One of the stiffest sentences handed out in Municipal Court was meted to Frank Stephens, 911 Washington, for speeding and driving during suspension of his driver's license.

Stephens pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $10 for the speeding charge, $100 and 30 days in jail for driving during suspension of his license. The Department of Roads and Irrigation definitely suspended Stephens' license after his conviction in Beatrice on a drunk and driving charge. The date of his first conviction was June 30, 1951.

Morse To Speak For Stevenson

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Morse (R-Ore) announced Thursday that he will speak in support of Gov. Stevenson at Minneapolis on Oct. 27 and in Boston on Nov. 2.

Morse said his first speech for the Democratic nominee since he repudiated Gen. Eisenhower will be delivered by transcription Friday night in Portland, Ore., at a meeting of the Volunteers for Stevenson.

Hiss Case Stand Is Defended

Governor's Deposition Based Only On What 'I Heard From Others'

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND (INS)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson Thursday night defended his role in giving a deposition in the Alger Hiss case as his duty as a lawyer.

The Democratic presidential candidate bitterly lashed out at Gen. Eisenhower, Ike's running mate, Sen. Richard Nixon, and Sen. Joseph W. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Stevenson declared also that Eisenhower and his foreign affairs advisor, John Foster Dulles, "demonstrated a continued personal faith in Alger Hiss in circumstances which imposed on them a clear obligation to make a searching examination of his character and background."

The Illinois governor pointed out that in December, 1946, Dulles discounted an offer of evidence that Hiss had a provable Communist record and said "no such reports or warning ever came to me."

Dulles was then chairman of the board of the Carnegie Endowment for World Peace of which Hiss was president and Eisenhower a board member.

Hiss, a former state department official, was convicted of denying he ever gave government secrets to one-time Red spy courier Whitaker Chambers, and is serving a five-year prison sentence.

In the deposition, Stevenson said Hiss' reputation was "good." Stevenson denied a newspaper story of last week that he introduced Hiss to a Chicago audience on Nov. 12, 1946. His deposition in the Hiss case said he believed he had not seen him between March of that year and the fall of 1947.

The governor declared: "All of the records make clear that my recollection was accurate. For on Nov. 12, 1946, I was in official attendance as a delegate to the United Nations in New York, and was not in Chicago at all."

Stevenson then exclaimed: "I resent—and I resent bitterly—the insinuations and the innuendos of the campaign that is being waged in behalf of the general and I am deeply shocked that the general would lead a so-called 'crusade' which accepts calumny and the big doubt as its instruments."

Stevenson wound up by saying: "Because I believe in freedom I am opposed to Communism. And I think I know more about it and more about the Soviet Union than most of these self-appointed Republican custodians of patriotism."

Speaking of his relations with Hiss, Stevenson said: "Now what are the facts about my deposition? ... I had known Alger Hiss briefly in 1933 when I worked about five months for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington, where he was also employed."

"I did not meet him again until 12 years later, in March of 1945, in the State Department. I saw him intermittently from March of 1945 to March of 1946 in the course of our official duties."

"He never entered my house and I never entered his. I saw him twice in the fall of 1947. I have not seen him since."

Stevenson added: "In the spring of 1949 I was requested by the lawyers for Alger Hiss to appear at his first trial and testify as to his reputation. I refused to do so because of the burden of my official duties. I was then requested to give a sworn written statement taken under order of the court with regard to his reputation as I had learned it from others."

"I said his reputation was good—and it was. I didn't say (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

64 Neighbors Pick 6,000 Bushels Of Corn For Farmer Near Waverly

WAVERLY, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Neighbors of Donald Cameron, a farmer in this vicinity, displayed their sympathy in a very tangible fashion Thursday.

Cameron, whose wife died last week, had been faced with harvesting 110 acres of high-producing corn. He still faced that problem Thursday morning, but that evening the corn—some 6,000 bushels of it—was entirely picked and in cribs.

Farm neighbors, most of whom live in the vicinity between here and Ceresco, came to the Cameron farm Thursday morning in a group numbering 64 men equipped with 13 mechanical pickers and three elevators. In just over five hours the entire 110 acres was picked.

A dinner for the cooperative cornpickers was served by 18 farm women on the Cameron farm at noon.

Beside her husband, who is 38, Mrs. Cameron was survived by two daughters, Eunice, 7, and Sharon, 10.

Mrs. Lansing Dies; Daughter Bank Founder

Mrs. Edith Lansing, of 1535 C. St., died Thursday at a local hospital following sudden illness. She was 68 years old.

Mrs. Lansing and two friends, Mrs. Jacob Norris and Miss Jennie Adams, were dining at a downtown department store when Mrs. Lansing complained that she did not feel well. A moment later she collapsed, and was rushed to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where she died about an hour later.

Miss Adams overcame by shock, fainted and was taken to the hospital for medical attention. Her condition was described as "satisfactory" Thursday night.

Bank Founder
Mrs. Lansing, the former Edith Hall, was the daughter of the late Dr. P. L. Hall, founder and president of Central National Bank, member of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents and once secretary of the state banking board. Dr. Hall also served as state Democratic chairman, and as member and as vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Mrs. Lansing's brother, Philip Hall, a banker at Greenwood, Neb., was former adjutant general of the Nebraska National Guard.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Lansing was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi. She was also a member of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Surviving are a nephew, Robert Hall of Omaha, and a niece in California.

Red Toll Big

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army said Friday that 9,382 Chinese Reds were killed or wounded by ground action alone in Korea Oct. 15 through 21.

The figures were added to the previous week's estimate of 10,186 Red casualties.

Attlee Chalks Up A Stunning Victory

British Labor Party, By Vote Of 188-51, Calls On Left Wingers To Toe The Line

LONDON (INS)—The moderate backers of Clement Attlee won a stunning victory over left wing rebels Thursday when the parliamentary group of the British Labor party called on Aneurin Bevan's forces to disband and toe the line.

A resolution calling for dissolution of the Bevanite "party" within the Labor party was approved in secret caucus by a vote of 188 to 51.

The left wing defeat was regarded as having brought Bevan to the crossroads of a tempestuous career apparently aimed at eventual grasp of the leadership now held by former Prime Minister Attlee.

It was expected the Bevanites would meet in about a week to consider whether they should disband as directed. Most of the Laborites in the parliamentary group, which is made up of the party's 290 members in the House of Commons, agreed that Bevan would have to accept the majority decision rather than risk expulsion from the party.

Bevan, who was health and labor minister when the Laborites were in power, has been calling for more socialization and less rearmament, in opposition to the policy of the leadership of Attlee.

Before the vote, Attlee and former Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison, his chief supporter, were cheered when they called for disbanding of the Bevanite group.

Bevan himself made an impassioned appeal for postponement of the decision, but it failed. A number of Laborites abstained from the vote in the hope that "some compromise could be reached."

Churchill Wins Commons Victory

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government won a comfortable victory in the House of Commons Thursday night for its program to denationalize Britain's iron and steel industry.

The government's policy was approved by a vote of 303 to 269. This was a preliminary skirmish on the issue. The industry itself is not affected at the moment.

DuTeau Theft Suspect Held In Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., authorities advised Lincoln police Thursday night that they are holding a George D. Williams, 28, of Oregon for extradition to Lincoln where a felony warrant is held against him.

Williams was arrested in Chattanooga Thursday where a 1952 model sedan stolen from DuTeau's Chevrolet on Oct. 6 was found in his possession.

Chattanooga authorities said that Williams has already signed an extradition waiver and will be released to Lincoln officers whenever they arrive to bring him back to Lincoln.

An officer of the Missouri State Patrol arrested Williams two days after the safe-cracking attempt in Lincoln. Williams, however, escaped when the officer had to investigate a highway accident.

A few days later he was arrested in Louisiana. But he escaped again and authorities temporarily lost his trail.

Big Bombs Blast At Red Tunnels

... On Sniper Ridge

SEOUL (P) — South Korean troops Friday heavily assaulted the last Chinese Red hold on Sniper Ridge after Allied planes blasted the Reds' maze of tunnels and bunkers with 40 armor-piercing 1,000-pound bombs.

Allied artillery also pounded the foe before the South Korean Second Division infantrymen jumped off at 9:30 a.m.

The Red-held position is at the north end of the Central Korean ridge.

Penetrate 20 Feet

At dawn, 20 Allied fighter-bombers had dived down and dropped bombs set with delayed action fuses so the explosives could penetrate 20 feet into the mountainside. There the Reds have tunnels and bunkers, some large enough to shelter a full infantry company, about 150 to 175 men.

On nearby Triangle Hill, Allied artillery at 2 a.m. broke up apparent preparations by Chinese to attack U. S. Seventh Division troops holding the height.

Twenty miles west of Triangle Hill, Allied troops threw Chinese Reds off the top of Iron Horse Mountain Thursday.

The Allied air attack was also intensified.

The better jobs are offered in The Journal and Star "Help Wanted" columns in the West.

It's Your Privilege To Vote!

One of the most cherished rights which we, in this free land of ours, possess is the right to vote as we please. It's like choosing the church we attend and raising our families as we wish.

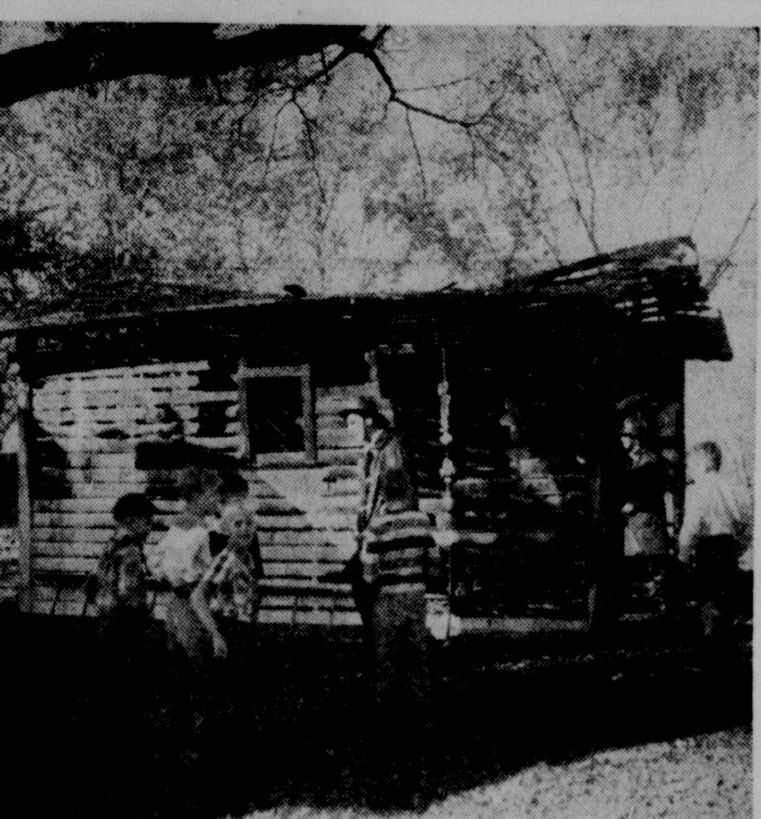

All good citizens exercise their right to vote as a prime duty of good citizenship, and your neighbor, the tavernman, is no exception. He, too, exercises his right by going to the polls.

In other ways, too, your tavernkeeper is a good citizen. He carries his share of the responsibilities of local government; he is a generous contributor and taxpayer; he maintains a home, and spends money with local merchants.

He is an important part of your community.

Miss Bourke Elected By Business Education

Miss Jamesine Bourke of York was elected president of the NSEA District One's Business Education Section Tuesday afternoon. Other officers are Miss Shirley Anderson of Seward, secretary, and Miss LaVerne Allen of Fairmont, treasurer.

Principal speaker was Dr. Paul A. Carlson of Wisconsin State College at Whitewater, who told the group that "bookkeeping is the backbone of business education." He predicted that "the time will come bookkeeping will become popularized in schools so that everyone will learn to keep and interpret personal accounts, which are increasing in importance because of income taxes, social security accounting, and other everyday needs."

"It will come in much the same manner as typewriting has become a popular elective course in high school to fill everyday needs," he concluded. During a business meeting, the members indicated "interest in cooperating with the other five district groups in affiliating with the newly-organized Mountain-Plains Business Education Association."

Rural-Elementary Group Hears Dr. S. A. Hamrin

Dr. S. A. Hamrin of Northwestern University addressed the NSEA's Rural-Elementary Division Tuesday afternoon at St. Paul Methodist church.

The educator said "guidance is teaching youngsters to live in his present age group now so as to ready himself for the next age." "Orientation is extremely important," Dr. Hamrin stressed. "The younger the child, the more the teacher should work with parents in pre-school and elementary grade orientation."

He told the some 600 teachers present "schools play only a small part in the child's education, and decisions as to the child's progress, should be made only after a three-way interview—teacher, child, and parents."

Officers will be elected at the group's Friday meeting at which Dr. Donald G. Becker of Colorado State College of Education will be the speaker.

Mathematics Section Names Aurora Teacher

Miss Josephine Grosvenor of Aurora was elected president of the Mathematics Section of the NSEA District One. Other new officers are Miss Eloise Pool, Lincoln, vice president, and Miss Ruth Callendar, York, secretary-treasurer.

The 95 attending members heard Joseph A. Nyberg, Chicago high school mathematics instructor, discuss "Logic in Geometry," at the Thursday meeting in the law college auditorium. Retiring president is Miss Mildred Waide of Lincoln.

Ervin Hoffman, York, Heads Science Teachers

The Science Section of the NSEA district elected Ervin Hoffman of York as chairman. Vice chairman is Ellis M. Jeffries of Lincoln and Jesse Graham of Geneva was named secretary.

At the sectional meeting Thursday on the University campus, Dr. Harold E. Wise, University of Nebraska professor of secondary education, discussed "The Science Teacher's Stake in the National Science Teacher's Association."

School Activities Group Names Committeeman

The Nebraska School Activities Association Thursday elected Lester Reid of Dorchester to a three year term on the district management committee and selected six delegates and six alternates to the representative assembly.

Delegates chosen are: Eugene Morrison, Exeter; Ralph Beecher, Lincoln; Earl Green, Fairmont; Bill Bogart, Lincoln; Merrill Penny, Utica, and Leo Ryan, Dayton.

Alternates are: Maxine Trauer-nicht, Lincoln; John Haberman, Geneva; Harold Bauer, York; Dohn Miller, Shickley; I. S. Caslett, Ulysses, and Dayton Rothrock, Gresham.

Reid was named president of the management committee and Wesley Bratt of Pawnee City, a hold over member, was chosen secretary. Glenn Felix of Geneva, retiring president, is the other hold over member.

Visitors To Europe Get Misleading Impressions

Visitors to Europe often receive misleading and superficial impressions, said Allen Lichtenberger of the research division of the State Education Department at the annual luncheon Thursday of the Association for Childhood Education.

Lichtenberger, who was sent to Germany recently by the U. S. Office of Education, described the German school administration and system, and said that before visitors develop concepts of a nation, they should obtain more than surface information.

Presiding at the meeting which 260 attended, was Virginia Porr.

Mathematics Teachers Plan Christmas Meet

Board members of the Nebraska Section of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics met Thursday at the Lincoln Hotel to plan their 13th Christmas meeting.

The Nebraska Section will be hosts at the national meeting to be held in Lincoln on Dec. 29, 30, and 31. "Mathematics Appropriate for Students Today" will be the theme of the national convention.

Second Request Presented For Zoning Change

Another request for the rezoning to residence C of three lots at the southeast corner of 17th and B has been presented by Att. Frank Watson, this time to the City Zoning Board of Appeals.

Watson's request carried the names of 11 persons living in the 17th and B area. The property involved is now classed apartment A.

Owner of the three lots, S. J. Fieselman withdrew an application he had before the Board for apartment B zoning of half the lots.

Watson asked that the withdrawal not be accepted and the Board act on both his and Fieselman's applications. Fieselman's application was deferred until Nov. 6 when the Board will also have Watson's request before it from the City Council.

Several weeks ago, Watson presented a similar request to the City Council. The city's legal department, however, ruled the request could not be acted upon as it did not bear the property owner's name and was not notarized.

In other matters, the Board took the following action:

W. W. Eden, change from residence A to residence B at 4625 Hillside, denied.

G. C. Hosland, residence A to residence B at 4545 Starr, denied.

Robinson Outdoor Advertising, permission to erect sign boards on the east side of Highway 77 between Union Airport and the city limits and in the vicinity of Park Boulevard and Hill, approved.

Standard Oil Co., apartment B to local business at 540 So. 11th, approved.

Esther Lefler Is Named By Classroom Educators

Esther Lefler of Lincoln was named director of the department of classroom education at a dinner meeting Thursday evening, during the 32nd annual session of the Nebraska State Education Association.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Helen Shaw of Lincoln, assistant director; Mrs. Marian Holt of Beatrice, secretary; and John Killian of Lincoln, treasurer.

Miss Margaret Stevenson of Washington, D. C., assistant executive secretary of NEA department of classroom teachers, briefly reviewed the department's aims.

"We must strengthen our departmental organization," she said, "with the motivation that classroom teachers assume their responsibility toward developing stronger professional standards."

Contribution to the department must be to develop a stronger organization. Thus we may improve the educational opportunities for boys and girls," she declared.

Stevenson

It was "very good," I didn't say he was a great patriot. I didn't say any of the things that the Wisconsin senator (McCarthy) says I said.

"I said his reputation was 'good' so far as I had heard from others and that was the simple exact whole truth and all I could say on the basis of what little I know of him."

"This was his reputation as a general himself had good reason to know."

Stevenson then declared: "I am a lawyer. I think that one of the fundamental responsibilities of every citizen but particularly of lawyers is to give testimony in a court of law and to give it honestly and willingly."

"I might add that here in your own state of Ohio a Republican Congressman (Walter Brehm) was recently convicted for unlawfully receiving political contributions from his employee."

"Before his conviction, your own Sen. Taft appeared and testified that this man's reputation was 'excellent without question.'"

Earlier Stevenson declared that the Republicans "are doing their best to try to scare the American people" about the future.

Four 'Great Needs' Of World Outlined For Sertoma Club

Members of Lincoln's Sertoma Club were told by their international president, Mose J. Whitson of Topeka, Kas., that there are four great needs in the World today.

First, Whitson said, there is the need for neighborliness, both locally and internationally.

Secondly, he said, there is the need for human mastery growing out of the question of whether man masters science or science destroys man.

Whitson's third need was for the creation of a better democracy and the maintenance of the existing democracy.

The last need presented by Whitson was for spiritual understanding and growth. No nation, he said, has become great or near great without spiritual aid.

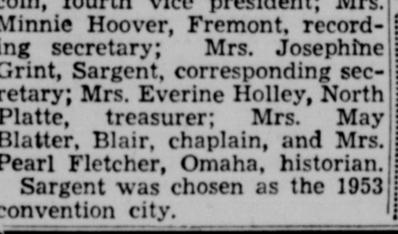

Whitson is touring the four state area in this district. He will cover Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Mrs. Lottie Hale, Sargent, Named To Head War Mothers

Mrs. Lottie Hale of Sargent was elected president of the Nebraska American War Mothers Thursday as the group concluded the three-day sessions of the 33rd annual state convention at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Other new officers are: Mrs. Waukena G. Udmondson, Omaha, first vice president; Mrs. Rose Dolan, Maxwell, second vice president; Mrs. Helen G. Albers, Omaha, third vice president; Mrs. Clarice Thompson, Lincoln, fourth vice president; Mrs. Minnie Hoover, Fremont, recording secretary; Mrs. Josephine Grint, Sargent, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Everine Holley, North Platte, treasurer; Mrs. May Blatter, Blair, chaplain; and Mrs. Pearl Fletcher, Omaha, historian.

Sargent was chosen as the 1953 convention city.

Final Concert Of Music Sorority Week At University Is Warmly Applauded

An audience of more than 50 persons warmly applauded the final program of the University of Nebraska's first Music Sorority Week, presented at the Student Union ballroom Thursday night.

Featuring a choral group of 38 voices, the concert opened with a selection of six love songs by Brahms. Accompanying the group were Pianists Mary Robinson and Marcella Schacht.

Bach's "Fughetta" and the fiery and rhythmic "Jamaican Rhumba" by Benjamin were presented by a sparkling piano duo, Gladys Novotny and Janice Fullerton.

The evening's most sensitive presentation, featuring Baritone Dale Ganz of the University faculty with the choral backing under the direction of Dr. Arthur Westbrook, was saved for the last.

Elinor Warren's poignant "The Harp Weaver," based on Edna Vincent Millay's poem of the same name, was enthusiastically applauded. Providing a haunting instrumental setting were Harpist Bonnie Weddel and Pianist Marilyn Paul.

Lack Of Pipe Capacity Cause Of Gas Shortage

Natural gas shortages in Lincoln were attributed by Lloyd Marti Thursday to the inability of pipe line companies to increase capacity rapidly enough.

Speaking at a noon meeting of the Optimists Club, Marti said that he hoped by the next heating season it would be possible "to furnish all the gas people in Lincoln may want."

He described the steps of natural gas from gathering in fields to distribution, and said that increased costs were due to the upward climb in cost of pipe lines as well as increased expenses in operating pipe lines.

"This naturally has to be reflected in rates to consumers," he said.

Ike's Chances Are Slim For Big Dixie Sweep

Demo Line May Crack

... Newsmen Predict

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—Dixie newsmen regard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as an even money bet to break into the "Solid South."
Editors and political correspondents taking part in a second mid-October survey for the Associated Press can't see the general and the GOP as making any titanic sweep of 14 Southern and border states.
They do believe Eisenhower has a definite chance, as of now, to crack the South somewhere along widely scattered fronts—from Virginia to Florida to Texas and at such points in between as Louisiana and Tennessee.
For Dixie, this is a political year without parallel. The Southland has been wooed ardently, in person, for the first time, by both presidential candidates.
In return, Southerners are carrying on a heavy flirtation with Republican nominee Eisenhower, and probably will reward him with the biggest outpouring of votes ever accorded the GOP below the Mason and Dixon Line.
At the same time, they evidently are going to hold out enough ballots to make sure that Dixie and the border states stick to their traditional love of the Democratic party.
At this point it is by no means sure that Eisenhower can take a single state in this group. But if the election were held today newsmen from the area think he would have just about a 50-50 chance at Texas, Louisiana and Florida and their 44 electoral votes. Those three states are rated a toss-up, as they were in an earlier survey around Labor Day.
Virginia still is considered tilted slightly toward Democratic nominee Adlai E. Stevenson, but is more doubtful than ever as a result of Sen. Harry Byrd's refusal to endorse the Illinois governor.
Once shaky Kentucky, now expected to go Democratic, has been replaced in the doubtful column by neighboring Tennessee. The 23 electoral votes of Virginia and Tennessee thus are listed as question marks leaning toward Stevenson.
In addition to Kentucky, newsmen believe Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Oklahoma and West Virginia—with a total of 87 votes—are about as sure for Stevenson as anything can be in politics.
When this lineup is combined with survey results from five Middle Atlantic and 11 Western and Rocky Mountain states, the estimates are that Eisenhower is leading in or likely to take 13 states with 167 electoral votes while Stevenson has an edge in or is expected to capture 14 states with 127 votes.

REPUBLICANS

Robert B. Crosby, North Platte, Republican candidate for governor, discussed services now being supplied by the state to Nebraska citizens in remarks prepared for a political rally in Ashland.
Warning that there is a limit beyond which state government ought not be allowed to expand, Crosby said "To be sure, we should not hesitate to make reasonable use of state government as a means for conquering problems that are common to the state."

Limit Cited By Crosby

Sen. Hugh Butler, through a letter to T. S. Hook, Wayne, Thursday replied to what he called "extraordinary charges" against the 80th Congress made in Wayne by Under-Secretary of Agriculture Clarence J. McCormick.
"Mr. McCormick has in effect accused the Republican 80th Congress of deliberately depriving the Federal Commodity Credit Corp. of the power to help farmers secure store for their grain

DEMOCRATS

James A. Hart, Democratic candidate, United States.
In a speech before a luncheon meeting of the Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce, Hart said: "Never before have the worker, the farmer and business man gone forward together into a prosperous period, in which they have all shared the benefits."

Hart Lauds Prosperity

Stanley D. Long, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, short term, Thursday quoted in Lincoln a statement he had received from Republican Sen. Wayne Morse, who has come out for Democrat Adlai Stevenson for President.

Long Quotes Sen. Morse

"In my judgment the danger of an all-out war would be greatly increased under the leadership of Gen. Eisenhower," Long quoted the Oregon Republican as saying.

Granddaughter Of Teddy Roosevelt Wins Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Edith Kermit Roosevelt, 24, granddaughter of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, Thursday was granted an uncontested interlocutory divorce from Alexander Barmine, 53, Russian-born expert for the State Department's "Voice of America."
Miss Roosevelt, now a Hollywood columnist, charged before Superior Judge Caryl M. Sheldon that Barmine had failed to support her and their 2-year-old daughter since July 5, 1951.

Judge Sheldon ruled that he could not award any support because Barmine had been served with the divorce complaint elsewhere in California.

Hello And Goodbye

Lincoln's City Council has before it a recommendation by the Lincoln Traffic Commission to establish a speed limit of 35 miles per hour on all city arterials.

It is assumed that the recommendation applies to all classes of motor vehicles — heavy trucks, passenger cars. The public, loaded down as it is, may want to think this one over. It should, certainly. That recommendation for limits on Lincoln's heavily-travelled arterials would permit a big truck, heavily loaded, or a passenger bus to pound the pavement at a speed only fifteen miles an hour less than the limitations on highways at night beyond the corporate limits of a city of more than 100,000 people. This craze for speed and more speed reflects itself in an ever mounting toll of automobile fatalities.

The recommendation, the news columns disclose, was in defiance of the expressed judgment of the Lincoln Police Department, a judgment arrived at when exhaustive traffic studies had been completed by the Police Department. That study, Capt. Clinton Hurd told the commission, revealed that the average speed on arterials now, with a limit of 25 miles per hour, is around 32. In other words, most traffic fudges a bit as it is. And if the limit is raised to 35 miles per hour, then are we to anticipate that the fudging will continue and instead of 35, be 37, with isolated instances as high as 40?

The Police Department itself leaves something to be desired because it suggests the need for tolerance. And why tolerance? If an autoist is violating the law, he is violating the law and not even the desire for good public relations justifies closing the eyes to law violation. If the trend is to continue towards higher speed, then obviously huge motor vehicles—trucks and buses—cannot travel on arterials. The accentuated danger to human life is too great.

What Of The Issues? No. 1 Of A Series

By J. E. LAWRENCE

People are becoming slightly surfeited with the type of presidential campaign now in progress, if widespread comment is any measure.

And precise, accurate information of national policy, both domestic and foreign, is so important if the decision to be reached is based upon understanding rather than emotion. It is within the everyday experience of every voter that emotion—the impetuous, impulsive reaction of human beings—frequently nullifies the best of intentions. It is the purpose here to discuss some of the major issues which will be decided by the votes of a free people slightly more than a week hence. In an atmosphere of loose, reckless, and irresponsible charges, calculated to appeal to old misunderstandings and prejudices, the need for calm discussion is obvious.

There was a classic example of loose statement in the heated controversy Wednesday night. At Troy, New York, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower accused the administration of deliberately adopting a policy of inflation that imperiled the nation like "a concealed mine field." He added that the purpose was to win the next election by making the people think they had more money—though it was worth less. "The inflation we suffer is not an accident," Gen. Eisenhower said. "It is a policy. What they have done is to cheapen our money and history shows that this is always done by administrations that care more for the next election than for the next generation." Gen. Eisenhower, with a lifetime behind him in the military, surely does not pose as a monetary expert. Somebody wrote that for him and he delivered it as written. As President, he could have his "cheap money"—and along with it, a smouldering trail of human misery, widespread unemployment, business and industrial paralysis, and agricultural desolation. People know this. They know it because even the man or the woman unschooled in economics understands that about the most dangerous experience this country could undergo is to move drastically and quickly from an era of high prices to an undetermined period of low prices. That is what any abrupt transition from "cheap money" to "dear money" means in simplest terms.

These catch phrases are deadly. Long forgotten now but in late September of 1920 the late Warren G. Harding, a Republican candidate for President, who died of a broken heart early in his term, said to a huge audience at the Iowa State Fair: "I propose to make your American dollar worth 100 cents." That was all—that short sentence. There was no explanation by Mr. Harding of the steps which he proposed to accomplish the end. Simply a pledge—one of the most tragic any man ever made. Thousands of hats sailed into the air and a roar that came from human throats split the skies. The first step by Mr. Harding to convert "cheap money" into "dear money" was an order by the Federal Reserve banking system which terminated livestock paper for rediscount at the Federal Reserve banks. That abolished credit. But it also wiped out thousands of livestock men who thought they were rich. There was the beginning of the late Calvin Coolidge's "industrial democracy in America."

We agree with Gen. Eisenhower that the

In Which Direction?

The first reaction to the news that Gov. Val Peterson and his budget director, Paul Wagner, had been forced to crash-land in Missouri was one of relief that both had escaped injury.

With assurance on that, it was natural that the question should be raised as to why the governor and his budget director were mixing naval reserve training with politics. The governor as a passenger was on his way to a Missouri town for a political rally in a Navy plane.

Now the Secretary of the Navy, Dan Kim-

Vacation

At various points over Nebraska this week end, the teachers of our public schools are meeting. And the comment reaching us is that you can tell at a glance which among the throngs are the "schoolmoons." It couldn't be because they resemble the archaic version of the spinsterish figure once found behind the desk—not these well-groomed, fresh-faced youngsters.

The answer, we believe, is to be found in the superlative gaiety that lifts their laughter and lifts their heels. For a few days, at least, for the teachers—school's out!

What's The Answer?

The fact that thousands of children continue to join the crowds greeting Gen. Eisenhower immediately prompts the thought that perhaps the reason is that Ike is aiming his speeches at them.

Speaking Of Taxes

Gen. Eisenhower has discovered that there are 100 taxes on an egg, but he leaves unanswered a more important question: "How many taxes on a best-selling book?"

DREW PEARSON

Justice Frankfurter Now Flirts With GOP

WASHINGTON—Some Republicans have blamed Sen. Cabot Lodge for putting Robert Cutler, the busybody Boston banker, aboard Gen. Eisenhower's train. Cutler is the would-be speechwriter who demanded that other Eisenhower ghost-writers get up at 4 a.m. to write another speech when they had hit their berths only after midnight.

However, Sen. Lodge is in no way to blame. The man who put Cutler on the Eisenhower train, believe it or not, is none other than Justice Felix Frankfurter of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Only a few people know it, but Frankfurter, who is considered a product of the New Deal, and who was elevated by FDR to the highest court in the land, has been flirting with the Republicans. In fact, he's been more than flirting.

Never happy unless he has his finger in politics—despite his position on the Supreme Court—Felix has been an expert in putting his men in key positions in government. And following this pattern, he put his man on the Eisenhower train.

Frankfurter's flirting with Eisenhower came about largely through the fact that two of his key friends—Kenneth Royal, former Secretary of War, and Jack McCloy, former commissioner to Germany, are now working for Eisenhower.

NOTE—Some Republicans fear that Frankfurter's dabbling in the Eisenhower campaign will boomerang. They recall that he is not testifed for Alger Hiss, but was the man who brought Hiss to Washington in the first place.

Taft And Ike

Vice President Barkley, whose wit is famous, has a new story on Gen. Eisenhower, Sen. Taft, and who is running the Republican party.

"A young lady," according to the Veep, "is fishing for catfish down near Paducah. She got a big one on the line—so big that it pulled her into the river."

"A colored man came by and, watching the young lady's battle to bring her catfish into shore, he exclaimed: 'Is that girl a 'cattin' or is that fish a 'gurlin'?"

"And that," says the Veep, "reminds me of the big Republican question—is Ike Taftin' or is Taft Ikein'?"

AUTOS AND POLITICS

Ford automobile dealers aren't the only ones who have been ordered to ante up for the Republicans. And the Midwest, as recently revealed in this column, isn't the only place where the squeeze is being put on.

Despite what happened in Michigan in 1948 where 18 automobile dealers were convicted for violation of the Corrupt Practices Act, word now has been passed down by both Ford and General Motors to Michigan dealers to go all out for Congressman Charles Potter, the GOP candidate against Sen. Blair Moody.

The money collections follow somewhat the same pattern as that put across in earlier years by Arthur Summerfield, now chairman of the Republican National Committee. This time, however, the political collec-

MARQUIS CHILDS

Sen. Morse Concludes Eisenhower Inadequate

WASHINGTON—No issue in this campaign of sound and fury is more phony than the prosperity issue. Gov. Stevenson and the Democrats claim credit for full employment and the high level of business operation. Gen. Eisenhower says we can have prosperity without spending for armaments. But he hasn't said how we can achieve it.

Against the background of campaign oratory is the threat seen by some objective economists of a recession in 1953 either in the late spring or early fall. Unless it were quickly checked, the consequences in the rest of the free world could be disastrous. As a recent British visitor put it in a discussion of the possibility: "If you catch cold, we get pneumonia and perhaps fatal pneumonia."

The question of whether Eisenhower and the Republicans or Stevenson and the Democrats could best cope with such a situation entered into the decision taken by Sen. Wayne Morse to bolt his own party. Under the sponsorship of independent voters for Stevenson, Morse will make a nationwide broadcast explaining why he will vote for the Democratic candidate.

Nothing that any Democrat has done or said in the entire campaign—not even excluding President Truman—has made regular Republicans so angry. They apply sizzling and for the most part unprintable epithets to the senator from Oregon who has so often proved himself a maverick. But apart from the intense heat of the present moment, it is important to examine Morse's motives.

He has, of course, repeatedly been in opposition to Sen. Robert A. Taft, the leader of the Republican party in the Senate. Ike's meeting with Taft and the statement out of that meeting would have been almost enough in itself to chill Morse's original enthusiasm for Ike.

There were, however, other motives. Morse spent weeks this fall touring military installations in Europe as a member of the armed services committee with Sen. Russell Long (D-La.). He returned from Oregon who has so often proved himself a maverick. One was the great waste in military spending. The second was the feeling of the inevitability of a third world war that predictions are not based on the number of automobiles sold, but on cash quotas. Bigger dealers are told they must contribute around $1,000. Smaller dealers are given quotas nearer $200. And it is made clear that the number of cars they receive in the future will depend on the gifts they give to the GOP now.

Details of the money raising are left to branch managers. However, John Bugas, right-hand man to Henry Ford II, has been contact man for the branch managers, while Harry Anderson, vice president of General Motors, has been doing the same for G.M.

Harlowe Curtice, executive vice president of General Motors, and the man expected to take over the G.M. presidency, is close to Arthur Summerfield, who in addition to being national chairman is the biggest Chevrolet dealer in the world. Summerfield is sometimes described among Michigan politicians as Curtice's messenger boy, and it was General Motors that switched him from Taft to Ike just before the Chicago convention.

TAFT'S PRIVATE MEMO

Politicians are mystified as to why Sen. Taft should have let a confidential memo critical of Eisenhower's supporters leak to the press at this time.

The memo was written by Taft to his backers right after he lost the GOP nomination, and in it he blamed his defeat on New York financial interests and the pro-Eisenhower press. The memo was given to a few newspapermen, and states:

"First, it was the power of the New York financial interests and a large number of businessmen subject to New York influence, who had selected Gen. Eisenhower as their candidate at least a year ago."

"Four-fifths of the influential newspapers in the country were opposed to me continuously and deliberately," Taft declared, "and many turned themselves into propaganda sheets for my opponent."

"The control of the press enabled the Eisenhower people to do many things which otherwise could not have been done," Taft continued bitterly. "The making of a moral issue out of the Texas case was only possible because every internationalist paper sent special writers to blow up a contest which ordinarily would have been settled fairly by the national committee and the credentials committee."

Taft added that the Eisenhower strategy was to reverse the convention rules and garner enough votes "to steal all the contested delegates." He claimed that he would have been "glad to withdraw" in favor of some other candidate holding my own general views, but that he could not bow out in favor of Gen. Douglas MacArthur before the first ballot, because this would have been "a surrender of principle and a betrayal of thousands of workers and voters who supported me."

Taft also had a barb for Republican governors.

"Like the editors," he complained, "the majority of Republican governors were sold on Eisenhower support."

Would Talullah Have Sipped From Her Shoe?

By MONA B. PARKER

"Blumin' Boomer" offers a timely tip in keeping with the season to all Geneva hunting widows who weren't able to get their husbands to put up the storm windows before hunting season started. He checked a patent medicine almanac and it stated cold weather won't set in until December 1 this year.

"That," he encouraged those deserted for field and stream, "will give you one clear weekend."

In order to determine the nimblest nimrod in their midst, two Tekamah firms are offering a series of prizes for the three longest pheasant tail feathers brought to the places of business during the pheasant season, October 17 through November 23. . . . And the "biggest" and "longest" contest among Osceola corn growers progresses. While The Record office hasn't enough yet to corner the market, more entries are expected as corn picker comes into full swing in that area.

Helen Marr, Walhalla Citizen columnist, described the "prelude to the first heavy frost."

"There is no mistaking the crispness in the air, that brightness of stars and moon, that clearness of sky. Not a cricket is chirping. There is a stillness that be-speaks peace. . . . As evening came, we scurried to make last-minute preparations. . . . I picked a last paillful of tomatoes, snatched slips of orange from the window boxes, picked a final bouquet of flowers, covered a few plants. . . . The men gave special attention to the tractor. . . . Thus the growing season ends, and the year approaches a closing, with crops either stored or about to be stored and the good earth ready for those months of cold when man and beast must live upon those provisions grown and made ready for use during the growing season."

The small girl who called to put a want-ad in The Hastings Tribune in hopes of recovering a lost kitten, added: "You better say he is very thin because he has been gone two days and probably hasn't had anything to eat." . . . The Pawnee City Eastwoods have been all in a dither thinking up names for pigs. The trouble is that they're no ordinary pigs but real blue-bloods of swine aristocracy. An ordinary pig might be named "Tubby," explained Mrs. Eastwood, but if he's to be registered he could be called "Square Enterprise." And thus, too, does "Curly" become "Special Princess." The most far-fetched title of all, she chuckles, belongs to the matronly old sow who farrowed the litter. She's none other than "Symbol Fairy," and "a less elfin-like character it would be hard to find anywhere."

Mrs. J. W. Tyler attended an autumn party on the Peru College campus last week and gleaned from it her usual wealth of humor and word pictures. . . .

"At the beginning, a flustered waitress spilled an icy drink on our shoe. Had we been Talullah Bankhead, we would have removed the pump and sipped the beverage, thus adding a dramatic touch to the occasion. But being an elderly person of good repute, we just sat quietly and dried out, grateful for dim light and for being long past the dancing age."

It might be termed poetry, of a sort. . . . At least it was put together by a couple of Holdrege hunters:

"Poison ivy never brings an itch like the woolen underwear of all, she chuckles, belongs to the switch!"

The People Speak

Gadabout Governor

Wymore, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Well, our gadabout governor is off for another week's vacation. Mark Childs' Tuesday day column in The Star says Peterson is retiring, therefore is free to campaign for Eisenhower for president.

Val Peterson's term as governor is not up until next January. He has made the statement several times that he would use all the time he could spare from the office in campaigning, but he doesn't have any time to spare until he has put in his eight hours of work, the same as other state officers. He should be told in language he can understand to get back where he should be and do the work he was hired to do and get his hands out of the taxpayers' pockets. It is just possible there are some people in Nebraska who don't want Eisenhower for President and it is not their duty to furnish a so-called governor to campaign for him. Peterson hasn't earned one-tenth of his salary as far as the state is concerned since the beginning of the last half of his third term.

H. D. ALLEN

Rumor Has It

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The campaign of hate still goes on. Harry is kept busy and Adlai is following in his footsteps. Why don't these men stay where they belong; there seems to be enough trouble for them at home. Rumor has it that Harry will be offered a position in the cabinet if Adlai wins. No wonder he is working so hard.

And Drew Pearson, the "poison-pen boy," seems to be busy, too. Why doesn't that pen write something constructive?

R. A. WILSEN

Grassland

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Have you noticed the grass in front of Love Memorial Library? It is the loveliest in the city.

Mother Nature with a practical hand. Carpets of grass weave o'er the earth. Succulent grass for the spring's new birth.

Knee-high summer grass, growing on the plain. Fattens the cattle, hastens fall gain. Gray matings of grass lying under snow. Secures the loan when winter winds blow.

And Mother Nature is proud as can be As she weaves her designs from tree to tree Of the cover she lays upon the land. To protect her floor from weather and man.

JEANNE SCHULTZE

Not For Him

Greenwood, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Just finished reading an article in The People Speak, and there wasn't a word of truth in it! In answer to that "Old Democrat," I say—I lived through the depression and my cows sold for $15 to $17 a head right under Franklin D. Roosevelt. Bread lines were two blocks long. I've seen them myself. As far as making the banks safe, Roosevelt had nothing to do with it. In fact, Roosevelt voted against it when it first came up. Times didn't get any better until World War II which caused the boom, and Roosevelt took the credit for that, too. I sold 14 head of long yearlings then for $140. I saw fat calves killed and hauled out by the tracks and buried, millions of bushels of potatoes were dumped and destroyed, and people were starving all over the country.

No, thanks, I wouldn't care to go back to the life I lived during the years under Roosevelt before World War II. You might convince a boy 21 years old of that malarkey, but you can't convince me. Maybe I have lived as long as "Old Democrat"—or longer.

OLDTIMER

Guile In Politics

Riverton, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It is the candidates, not the voters, who spend money to tell you to vote. They profit from your free vote, tell you it is your civic duty to vote. But they wouldn't spend millions just to remind you of your civic duty to vote. They tell you voting is your salvation. If a few neglect to vote, the majority always votes. The politicians cry that a dictatorship is fastening itself upon us although it was approved by popular vote. The relative few who did not vote are blamed for not stopping the majority.

Atomic Exhibit State Tour Opens Here Nov. 2

A state-wide tour of an atomic energy educational exhibit, sponsored by several Nebraska newspapers, the University of Nebraska Extension Division and local school systems, will begin at Lincoln, Sunday, Nov. 2.

The exhibit, aimed at helping Nebraskans understand the development and possibilities of atomic energy, is prepared by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

The showing in Lincoln is financed by The Lincoln Star and The Lincoln Journal. The display, which requires about 7,500 square feet of floor space, will be set up in the Military and Naval Science building on the University campus and will be open through Thursday, Nov. 6.

Other Nebraska cities in which the exhibit will appear and the local sponsors are:

Norfolk, Nov. 10 through 12, Norfolk Daily News, Radio Station WJAG, public schools and junior college.

Scottsbluff, Nov. 17 and 18, Scottsbluff Star-Herald, public schools and junior college.

North Platte, Nov. 24 and 25, North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin and public schools.

Hastings, Dec. 1 and 2, Hastings Tribune and public schools.

Beatrice, Dec. 8 and 9, Beatrice public schools.

The exhibit, sponsored nationally by the National University Extension Association, contains more than 30 sections devoted to various phases of atomic energy. It includes an atomic furnace in which uranium atoms are split every few seconds. It also explains and actually produces radioisotopes.

With the use of radioisotopes, agricultural scientists are now able to follow the path of fertilizer from the soil into the plant. This method of study is proving invaluable in the field of agricultural research and one of the exhibit sections is devoted to it and other atomic energy uses in agriculture.

Railway Commission Says Grain Car Shortage Growing

Shortage of box cars on railroads suitable for hauling grain nounced. Railroads serving Nebraska now have about 95 per cent of their cars on their own lines, the ICC reported. This they predict will permit better allocation of cars to shippers than in past years.

Motor Vehicle Tax Amendment Opposed

G.I. Groups Label Plan Ambiguous

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—The Grand Island City Council and School Board were on record Thursday in vigorous opposition to the proposed motor vehicle tax amendment to the state constitution.

The amendment, which will be voted upon at the Nov. 4 general election, gives the Legislature the right to establish a different method of taxing motor vehicles in Nebraska.

The resolution adopted by the council and the board gave these reasons for opposing the proposed amendment:

1. It is vague, ambiguous and not clearly drawn.
2. The intent is to make possible a flat and uniform tax on each class of motor vehicles within each county, the proceeds to be distributed to each taxing sub-division in the county in proportion to the total levy on other tangible property.
3. That this system of taxation and distribution of proceeds is unjust and unfair.
4. That it would open the possibility for special tax arrangement on other classes of tangible property.
5. That it might necessitate higher levies on other tangible property.
6. That it affects adversely the tenure of bonds and their sale.
7. That any plan of taxation of the Legislature is subject to revision during any session.
8. That deficiencies in the present method of levying and collecting motor vehicle taxes can be corrected by the Legislature without constitutional amendment.

White, Negro Colleges Urged To Co-operate

WASHINGTON (AP)—R. G. Gustavson, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, asserted Thursday the white and Negro land grant colleges should work more closely together.

Addressing the conference of presidents of Negro land grant colleges, Gustavson said that whether a Negro inherits a farm which a white man has neglected or a white farmer tries to work land abused by its former Negro owner, each suffers—and the nation suffers.

"We are bound together, among other things, by common use of the land," said Gustavson, who is chairman of a committee of white land grant colleges dealing with relations with the Negro land grant colleges.

Discusses Accrediting
Gustavson also discussed the problems of accrediting colleges, and told how the national conference on accrediting—representing 1,200 colleges and universities—has been whittling down the list of more than 300 accrediting agencies.

"The American Association of University Women is a fine organization, but we see no reason why it should be looked upon as an accrediting organization," Gustavson said.

He added that similarly the council saw no excuse for recognizing Phi Beta Kappa, a scholarship fraternity, as a kind of accrediting body.

Aurora Man Short $95 As Result Of Coinflipping Game
OMAHA (AP)—Ellis D. Griffith, 24, Aurora, Neb., was short $95 of his money Thursday as the result of an encounter with a couple of coin-flipping strangers.

Griffith, en route home, met a stranger at a bus station here Wednesday. Another stranger joined them and a coin-flipping episode followed. At one stage of the proceedings, Griffith handed over $95 as proof of security. That was the last Griffith saw of either the stranger or his money.

The confidence game has had other victims here before.

Boxcar Shortage Not Expected To Hit Critical Stage
OMAHA (AP)—A shortage of boxcars has arrived in Nebraska, but it is not yet critical, L. A. Dickson, manager of the American Association of Railroads car service division here, said Thursday.

Dickson explained that Nebraska is not alone in its lack of freight cars. October is traditionally a peak loading month. And this year, the early corn crop and excellent soybean and wheat crops have worsened the situation in the Midwest.

11,000 Teachers Leave Schools For Conventions

Six Cities Host Annual 2-Day Affair

By The Associated Press
More than 11,000 Nebraska teachers Thursday traded the speaker's rostrum at the front of their classrooms for a seat in an auditorium and a chance to hear a series of speakers.

The occasion was the opening of the annual two-day district conventions of the Nebraska State Education Association at Omaha, Lincoln, Norfolk, Hastings, McCook and Chadron.

Before the speakers got started at Omaha, southeast Nebraska school teachers went on record by voice vote as opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment on motor vehicle taxation.

The proposed amendment, to be voted on Nov. 4, would permit the Legislature to revise the present system of local tax assessments on motor vehicles.

Norfolk Meeting
At Norfolk, teachers were told that:

"Dirty politics won't get any better until people like you are ready to get down on your knees with a scrub brush and clean up this mess."

Dr. W. H. Alexander, pastor of the First Christian Church Oklahoma City, then asked the teachers to ask themselves these four questions:

1. "Do you have a positive attitude? Teachers must believe in youth and they must let youth know they believe in them. There is more wholesomeness in youth than in any other group."

2. "Do you have a self fit to live with? If you look within yourself at night and say everything is all right; if you look without and say your dealings with your fellowmen are all right, then you have a right to answer the question in the affirmative."

3. "Do you have a world fit to live with?"

4. "Do you have a world fit politically in which to live?"

Water And Freedom
People of North America have no fear of ever becoming slaves as long as they have an adequate water supply, Sidney R. Montague, Hollywood, adventurer and author, told the 1,750 teachers registered for the Norfolk convention.

Speaking of resources in Canada, where he formerly lived and served eight years with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Montague said the Canadians alone have 52 per cent of the fresh water supply of the entire world. Russia, China and India combined have only 17 per cent.

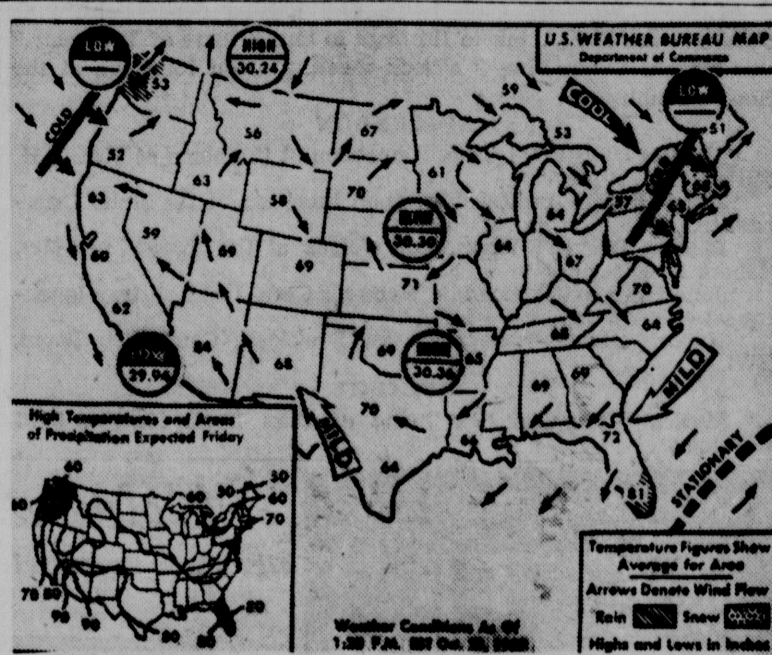

The population of the United States is 160 million, that of Canada 14 million, and Mexico, 27 million, totaling 191 million, Montague said.

"With an adequate water supply, where do we get the fear of being 200 million slaves?" he asked.

Vote Registration Sets A New Record

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (P)—Evening registration for voters started here and the number of those registered reached 6,721—a new record—City Clerk Loren Townsend said. Townsend said there are an estimated 7,000 persons here eligible to vote.

Three-Man Board To Direct York Water Company

YORK, Neb. (P)—The city of York will begin operation of the York Water Co. Friday under the direction of a three-man board of public works.

Mrs. Matilda Quinn, clerk of the District Court, and Edwin Roberts, city clerk, said the total cost of acquiring the York Water Co. would be roughly $275,000.

Although the court of condemnation fixed the purchase price of the water firm at $244,000, it was specified that the accounts receivable and the inventory of the concern would be included in the final price.

The accounts receivable and the inventory will total in excess of $9,000. James H. Ellis, Lincoln, owner of the York Water Co., was to receive a check for $253,801.

Other items, such as attorneys' fees, judges and court reporters' fees, bonds and costs, brought the total amount to the $275,000 mark.

(STAR PHOTO)
Mrs. John Spalding (center) of Wichita, Kan., chairman of region VII of the Camp Fire Girls of America, made an official visit to the Lincoln Camp Fire Council, Thursday, when she was the guest at the council's luncheon-meeting held at the University Club. In the picture with Mrs. Spalding is R. D. Latsch, board member and chairman of the camping program, and Mrs. Walton Ferris.
The final session of the Camp Fire leaders training course was held Wednesday at the YWCA, when Mrs. Kenneth Clark, training chairman, awarded certificates to ninety-two leaders who participated in the course. Mrs. W. G. Longacre, committee of awards chairman, and her committee directed the final session, when handcraft demon-

Your Speaking Voice

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS
A charming manner of speaking wins votes for the politician, fans for the actor and orders for the businessman.
A lovely voice speaking attractive ideas will hold a woman's admirers enthralled for longer than her looks. From a man's viewpoint, voice appeal is a prime requisite in a woman.
And, as one authority states, though a woman may succeed with an unpleasant, strident voice, she could do it more easily with a pleasant one.
There is no question but that a charming manner of speaking is worth working for. And it can be attained no other way. Even though you now have one it, like a good complexion, can wither from neglect and must be constantly tended if you wish to continue counting it among your treasured possessions.
One telling quality of speech is the tempo at which your

Minerva's Mail

Maybe there will be room this morning for a short letter to Worried Mother who was perplexed as to how to combat her daughter's young crowd. The problem seemed to be a certain laxness in manners and conversation, particularly the latter, because it was a "crowd" of long standing and limited to membership. Today another mother suggests a solution:
Dear Minerva: My heart went out to Worried Mother several days ago when I read her letter in the Mail. I had been all through that same situation and I know the fears that cross her mind, and the doubts she has of her ability to do anything at all about any of it. Maybe we were just lucky—but after hearing a few conversations we thought were too free and easy for such youngsters, we deliberately organized a plan of action. I wouldn't know Elsa Maxwell if I saw her, but she did give me a clue as to how to proceed. I kept telling my daughter about the fabulous parties engineered by la Maxwell—how every moment was planned. This went on and on, and if I read anything about any other party where there were parlor games, charades and such, I brought those in, too. Finally I convinced her that the "elite" did something besides sit around in blue jeans discussing intimate topics. She decided to have a dress-up party and carefully planned the entire evening's entertainment. Her father and I watched for signs of reaction—We found that the youngsters were so busy having real fun that they didn't have time to think of anything else. Another girl in the crowd then had a dress-up affair, and so it went. Things seem to have changed considerably—Everyone is so busy learning new

Life story of FANNY BRICE

At 10 she sang on street corners and bar tops. By 17 she was a burlesque hit and on her way to Ziegfeld stardom. But though she won fame and fortune in the theater and as "Baby Snooks," she lived the heartbreak of her throbbing song, "My Man." For Fanny never found happiness... not a man of her own. Read Fanny Brice, by Norman Kasha, starting this month in the Ladies' Home Journal.

Better Days Coming

WELL, LET'S see — nothing startling on the calendar for today, and we've already told you about Saturday's activities — Mrs. W. Bruce Shurtleff's luncheon — and the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin will be host and hostess Saturday evening — Plans are shaping up, but not too rapidly, for the Nebraska-Missouri game a week from Saturday, but we'll have to wait for more definite information concerning some of the potential festivities.

HAD YOU heard that Mrs. George Hippee Rogers is once more a Lincoln resident? Mrs. Rogers came from Boulder a week or two ago, and now is residing at 725 South Fourteenth street.

SPEAKING OF new neighbors — picked up the news somewhere that Mr. and Mrs. Linus Southwick plan to come from California to reside in Lincoln.

as game time approaches — Just heard that among the spectators at the Saturday game in Boulder will be Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCoy, their daughter, Miss Margaret McCoy, Miss Carolyn Rogers and Miss Nancy Norman.

AND ALSO TO Boulder and the game have gone Mr. and Mrs. Harland Smith who, at Scottsbluff, will be joined by Mrs. Smith's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Dennis.

ECHOES from last Saturday's game at Penn State have been drifting back to Lincoln all week long — The latest word is from Lieut. Jerry Siegel — Beta Theta Pi at Nebraska — who is stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland. Lieut. Siegel writes:

"Last week-end was the greatest fun I've had here yet. Five of us left Saturday morning for State College, Pa., to see the big game. There were Joe Gifford, Stan Gerlach, Gene McKay, Boz Scoville, an SAE from Nebraska, now with the FBI in D.C., and myself. Along the way we stopped and gathered ears of corn and cornstalks and made like real Cornhuskers by the time we pulled into the college. We had seats on the fifty yard line so we didn't miss much — In fact we saw all, including the many Nebraska people.

"The first one we saw was Ken Minnick who is in Pittsburgh with U.S. Steel — Saw Priss Jones's brother, Dan, Tish Swanson, sat in back of the Henkens from Lincoln, and ran into Bruce Berquist who is with the air force at Cape Cod. "After a good game despite the score, the five who came in the car along with Minnick, Berquist and John Adams all went over to the Beta house which is beautiful."

UNDERSTAND that there is a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Seacrest — and that the week-end will bring more — Last Tuesday Mrs. Seacrest's mother, Mrs. R. C. Barrett (a former Lincoln resident) planned from Los Angeles for a two week-end visit here, and this week-end Mr. and Mrs. Seacrest will have as their house guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis of Omaha.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Seacrest will be a dinner host and hostess at their home when the family group will be completed by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seacrest and their three children, Susan, George and Bill, and Miss Vernetta Seipp of Columbus.

Numerous informal affairs have been planned for Mrs. Barrett during her stay in Lincoln.

Visitors Group Plans Meeting

The members of the Nursing Home Visitors group will meet at 1 o'clock on Friday, October 24, in the committee room at the YWCA. Mrs. Faith Merwin, visitor in the Nursing Homes Visitors branch of the Lancaster county welfare department, will be guest speaker. A roundtable discussion on "The Needs and Problems of Nursing Home Residents" will be led by Mrs. D. B. Marti, president of the Visitors' group. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Madam Chairman

University Red Cross

The Red Cross unit at the University of Nebraska is commencing its activities this year under the leadership of Bob LaShelle. Among its projects are first aid booths at all home football games, and a program to provide entertainment for polio victims, and patients at the Veterans' hospital. Included among the chairmen for the year are Darrel Puls, first aid; Donna Elliott, special events; Barbara Tooley, orphanage; Wilma Kindhart and Don Weber Whitehall; Marcia Stransky, Cedars Home; Nancy Dalgren, St. Thomas; and Margie Delamatre, Gray Ladies' aides.

Introducing— Margaret And Ricky Wooden

New residents at 3115 Puritan street are the Woodens... Mr. and Mrs. William, Margaret, a kindergarten pupil at Sheridan, and Ricky, two and a half. Mr. Wooden, ironically called, is a district representative for a lumber concern and they hope to be more or less permanent residents of Lincoln!

Although the Woodens have moved here from Marysville, Wash., they are both natives of Centerville, Ia. An alumni of the junior college in Centerville, Mr. Wooden moved with his family to Washington to enter the school of forestry after serving in the Navy as an ensign.

Dr. Ford Urges Return To Early Ideals

Steps Halt Moral Ruin Are Listed

"To prevent complete deterioration of moral and spiritual values in American life," Dr. Clayton D. Ford, director of Principia College's school of government, Thursday told the Nebraska State Education Association District 1 convention that there "must be:

1. A return to the moral base of our early heritage.
2. A change in attitude toward government.
3. A re-evaluation of the early ideal of the unalienable rights of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

Dr. Ford and Dr. S. A. Hamrin, Northwestern University professor of education, were principal speakers at the Association's opening session at the University of Nebraska Coliseum, attended by more than 2,500 educators, teachers and administrators.

Rights Of Man
"Political beliefs are predicated on a basic way of life of the people," Dr. Ford said. The American belief was penned by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence: "... that all men are created equal, and they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The Alton, Ill., educator assailed the American attitude of "tolerance, not acceptance of government." "Religion is a part of our every day lives," but government is regarded only as "a necessary evil."

"We do not value public life high enough," he continued. "Morality in government is less a concern than morality in private life."

"Government is not independent of the people, if we want government to change, we must change our attitude. Only then will government return to the basic principles of our spiritual and moral life."

"In Britain, government is highly regarded and there is little corruption, but what there is, is dealt with severely by both the people and the party."

"Witch hunts for Communism," unequal justice for Japanese-Americans during World War II, and discrimination against minority groups, are a few of instances which point the need for a "re-examination of our early ideals," Dr. Ford said.

A "gospel of doubt" in God, man and his devices has prevailed in political thought, "shaking the faith of the American people and weakening the trust in fellow-man," Dr. Ford concluded.

The second speaker, Dr. S. A. Hamrin, made four points in discussing the relation between living and teaching.

He said the teacher must remember that "each individual is important" in teaching persons to "live together and regard the value of others."

"Teach in terms of intelligence," the educator said. He warned his profession that "intelligence is more important than the student's home-life."

Must Contribute
He said there is a tendency to "lay a departure from the normal on an inferior environment, instead of intelligence. The guiding force over the individual's animal-like drives and human conscious is intelligence."

Decisions must be shared, if the students, teachers, and administrators are to learn to make decisions for themselves," the speaker said. We deny autocracy in Communism, but often forget the democratic ideal in our schools: "that all who are affected by policy should have a share in its making."

He said the "learning is valueless without learning to contribute," adding that some schools do so much for the student that they do not learn to contribute.

"It is a truism that we learn more by teaching others, but in learning to contribute, each must know the relation of his contribution to the whole," he declared.

Dr. Steven N. Watkins, Lincoln superintendent of schools, welcomed the NSEA members. The invocation was given by Dr. Carl Bracy, Nebraska Wesleyan University chancellor. NSEA President Lewis F. Fowles of York introduced the speakers.

Links Host Omaha South In Home Finale Tonight

By WAYNE PANTER
Star Sports Staff Member

A duel between two of the finest backs in the state high school football circles is in the offing tonight as Coach Bill Witty brings a rejuvenated Omaha South team here for Lincoln's final home game of the season.

Prep observers have ranked the Packers' Dave Koile, a 165-pound package of speed, elusiveness and hard-charging determination, near the top of this year's heap, along with Lincoln's All-State Halfback Ted King.

Last week Koile did 50% of the lugging for South and averaged five yards per carry as he almost single-handedly defeated North-east, 19-14, to give the Packers their second win of the season.

King, meanwhile, is the Links' leading ground-gainer, with an unofficial total of 425 yards gained in the Red and Black's past five games. He has averaged 5.9 yards a try over the route.

The Packers operate from the T formation, while Lincoln High utilizes the single wing.

The Links hold an advantage in depth over the visitors. Beyond Koile, the Packers showed little in the way of runners, while Links' Coach Bill Pfeiff can call upon two other top ball carriers, Dick McWilliams and Don Erway. A third, Jack Curtis, will miss the South fray because of a minor leg injury.

Curtis has a charley horse sustained against Omaha North last week which has not responded to treatment. Two other Links, one a regular, are not expected to play. Dick Dinges, tackle, is still out with a bad knee, as is Mike Edwards, who held down the center slot behind Jerry Gilbert.

Lincoln carries an unsullied record into the fray, after defeating Scottsbluff and Omaha North in the last two weeks to get past two of the toughest hurdles on the road to a hoped-for second straight state prep grid title.

Following the meeting with South, the Links go on the road to face Alliance next week and wind up the season the following Friday at Grand Island.

South's win over Northeast followed a 28-6 victory over Omaha Central and earned the Packers a berth in the Top Ten after they had lost their first three games.

Central and Northeast have been the two teams' only mutual

Wayne Bumps Chadron, 20-13

CHADRON, Neb. (P)—A hard-charging Wayne football team defeated Chadron Teachers 20-13 Thursday night in a game in which all the scoring was done in the first half.

Chadron came out in the second half with a determination to halt the heavy-hitting Wayne forward wall and pretty well got the job done.

The score was tied, 7-7, at the end of the first quarter.

Wayne went ahead with two more touchdowns, like the first period counter the result of close-in plunges.

Chadron's second touchdown came on the most spectacular play of the game, Bill Darnell's 50 yard pass to Bill Sollars who ran the ball another 35 yards to the goal.

foes. Lincoln lurched past the Eagles, 6-0, in a driving rainstorm to open the season and three weeks ago availed the Rock-ets, 33-0.

Following the pattern established two weeks ago, Pfeiff has given the Links little heavy work this week. Thursday night the Links reviewed defensive formations after a dummy scrimmage the night before. Starters for the Links are expected to be the same as last week's. The probable offensive lineups:

LINCOLN	Pos.	SOUTH
Le Roy Butcher	LE	Robert Martinez
Dean Stoneman	LT	Tom Wees
Larry Kimmel	LG	Henry Smith
Jerry Gilbert	C	Harold Jones
Bill Greiner	RG	Gene Schwalm
Dick Skold	RT	Al Acamo
Bob Barrett	RE	Don Brown
Russ Nelson	QB	Sam Marasco
Don Erway	LB	Dave Koile
Ted King	RH	Ben Cacioppo
Dick McWilliams	FB	John Dilase

ON MAT CARD—Pat O'Connor, the pride of New Zealand, will make his wrestling debut here Tuesday night when he tangles with Bob Orton in the main bout.

Lincoln carries an unsullied record into the fray, after defeating Scottsbluff and Omaha North in the last two weeks to get past two of the toughest hurdles on the road to a hoped-for second straight state prep grid title.

New Zealand Ace Will Head Wrestle Show

An all-star card of television personalities will give with the grunts and groans at the fairgrounds weekly wrestling show Tuesday night.

Promoter Adam Krieger feels that except for the show of two weeks ago when World's Heavyweight Champ Lou Thesz made his appearance here, that this week's card is the best this season.

For the main event Prof. Krieger has arranged for a two out of three fall bout between Pat O'Connor of New Zealand and Bob Orton of Kansas City. O'Connor is one of the leading contenders for the heavyweight title at 226 pounds, and has just returned from the east coast where he had several television engagements.

Orton, also one of the country's top performers and a television star, will be making his appearance here for the first time this season.

Greek Champ Walter Sirois will be trying for his first victory in the local ring when he tangles with Omaha's Emil Dusek. Last week Sirois was forced to settle for a draw with Howard Pierce.

Pierce, a native of Lincoln, will match strength with Dick Dusek, nephew of the Omaha clan, in the 30-minute preliminary bout.

Predicting a Husker victory this week would take some sort of a quarter-wit, some guy whose marbles have long since been lost.

Colorado is favored by three touchdowns. The game is at Boulder, where it is absolutely not legal for anyone to win except Colorado. Attitude, they say. School spirit, something like the medieval urge to defend the home castle, we say.

We're tossing the odds into the winds, going strictly against the grain and let the chips fall where they may.

Nebraska 21, Colorado 20—Husker defensive play reaches a new crest this day and the offensive blocking will show new fire. There'll be a few new maneuvers that'll startle the Buffs, especially on the aerial side.

Sotto to the Huskers: This is not only getting out on the limb—it's digging up a cross-saw and saving it out from under. It's just a way of showing the confidence we have in you. Elsewhere:

Oklahoma 63, Kansas State 6—This all depends, of course, on the condition of Oklahoma's seventh string tackle.

Kansas 21, Southern Methodist 13—The Jays rebound, although they're still bruised and battered by last week's brawl with the Sooners.

Missouri 27, Iowa State 13—Too much Bill Roweckamp and too much hefty line.

Charles Favored Over Cesar Brion

NEW YORK (P)—Ezzard Charles was a 3-to-1 favorite Thursday to defeat husky Cesar Brion of Argentina in their Madison Square Garden meeting Friday night.

Charles, 31-year-old Cincinnati, promised "I am going to be in there trying for a knockout all the time."

Brion, 12th ranking heavyweight at the age of 25, has a 39-7 record with 18 knockouts.

Some traffic expert just put in a good word for back seat drivers. This is as unusual as a workable postoffice pen.

...but the safety had had reasons that carry as much weight as a butcher's thumb.

He says the back seat kibitzer is especially valuable on long trips, when the fellow with his paws on the wheel might feel like dozing off. The back seat jockey's chatter keeps the pilot as alert as a startled chipmunk. ...and if the driver's answers start getting hazier than smoke rings in a fog, the back seat driver can call for time out for a cup of coffee or a few eye opening calisthenics. Or you can always trade places.

36-Man Squad Tabbed For Colorado Tilt Trip

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Staff Member

COACH Bill Glassford's Corn-husker football legion, sharpened to a keen edge for Saturday's invasion of Colorado, began tapering-off drills Thursday afternoon.

A 36-man squad has been named by Glassford to make the flight to Boulder for the important Big Seven contest.

The travel roster includes: Ends—Ted Connor, Dennis Emanuel, Andy Loehr, George Mink, Ken Moore, Bill Schabacker.

TACKLES—Don Boll, Harvey Goth, Ed Hasmann, Max Kitzelman, Jerry Minnick, Jim Oliver, Bill Holloran.

GUARDS—Carl Brasee, Kay Curtis, Demas Griess, John Machisie, George Prochaska, Charles Bryant.

CENTERS—Bob Oberlin, Verl Scott, Dick Watson.

QUARTERBACKS—John Bordogna, Dan Brown, Duane Rankin.

HALFBACKS—Jim Cederdahl, Charles Chamley, Dennis Korinek, Bob Reynolds, Bob Smith, Jim Sommers, Bill Thayer, George Gohde.

FULLBACKS—George Cifra, Ray Novak, Jim Yeisley.

The squad will leave the Lincoln airport via a DC-6 at 10:20 a.m. Saturday, after spending Friday night at the Ag College dorm, and arrive in Denver at 11:30 a.m. (mountain time).

Thursday's Duane Rankin action was limited to timing and brushing up on the spread formation, which Glassford has been grooming for the Buffs. Although the Huskers were in full regalia, no tough stuff went on.

Soreness is still hampering several players but the Huskers should be at near-full strength for the Buffalo encounter.

Slated to miss the trip because of injuries are Guard Jerry Paulson and Halfback Dierks Rolston. Both are on the mend, but Glassford indicated he wanted to give them another week to heal.

Quarterback John Bordogna, who had three teeth extracted by Penn State players last week, is still a little sore, but he'll be ready for action on schedule.

However, Glassford announced that Quarterback Duane Rankin, Lincoln sophomore, will see action against Colorado—to give Bordogna relief if needed and especially to provide him with experience.

Rankin, while not seeing a great deal of action this fall, showed flashes of promise in the South Dakota game as a passer and ball handler.

Nebraska will trot on the field at Folsom Field Saturday a 13-point underdog according to current estimates from Boulder. However, several Colorado sports writers have hinted that the Huskers won't be on the same gridiron with the "Thundering Herd." A rout is roundly predicted, primarily based on the absence of Bob Reynolds who'll be available for PAT kicking only. One Denver scribbler has even suggested that Nebraska can't make the grade in the Big Seven Conference.

These reports fail to upset the usual calm composure of Glassford who said Thursday:

"We've got to play the game Saturday and we'll do the best we can. I can assure you, we'll fight them for 60 minutes to the best of our ability."

A record crowd of 30,000, including approximately 4,000 Nebraska students and band members and a large number of Corn-husker alumni in the Colorado area, is expected for the game.

Assistant Coach Ray Prochaska will scout Missouri's Tigers in action against Iowa State at Columbia Saturday.

FOOTNOTES—Bleacher seats for both the Missouri game, scheduled for Nov. 1, and the Homecoming tilt with Minnesota, Nov. 15, are available. Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski reported Thursday.

The Missouri bleacher seats are $2, tax included, while the reserved bleacher seats for the Gopher game are $3.50.

Lewandowski also stated that reorders for the 1953 Nebraska season tickets must be in the Coliseum ticket office by Nov. 22.

Coaches Elect New Officers

The District One Coaches Association heard Wesleyan Assistant Football Coach Marv (Preacher) Franklin speak on "The Coach's Role in the Community" at a cafeteria-style luncheon held at the Lincoln YMCA Thursday for the purpose of electing officers.

A crowd of 125 Nebraska high school coaches heard Franklin, the former University of Nebraska end coach, call for a rededication to the coaching profession.

New officers are Dale Snook, Teachers College High, president; Tom Gillaspie, College View High, secretary; and Harry Kuklin, Lincoln High, treasurer.

Boilermaker Star Hurt

Fairbury, Northeast Vie For Mid-East Grid Title

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

THE Mid-East Conference championship goes on the line tonight at Fairbury with Northeast and the Jeffs clashing in the title scrap.

On the basis of past performances, the Rockets will be about a two-touchdown favorite, but Coach Ben Galloway isn't expecting a pushover in Pete Bieterman's warriors.

Both teams have two conference wins going into the fray, but Northeast's overall mark is better than Fairbury's. The Rockets have won four while losing only two, those to Lincoln High and Omaha South.

Fairbury has stopped Hastings, Geneva and Beatrice while losing to York, Nebraska City and Fremont.

However, the Jeffs' loss to York was a one-point decision (6-7) and Fremont topped them 14-12 on the strength of a Fairbury kick which was accidentally blocked by a Fairbury man.

This indicates that the Rockets won't find their fifth consecutive Mid-East title an easy task. They'll have plenty of support as they make their bid though. The Northeast band and pep club will accompany the team.

Of more practical value will be the fact that the Rockets are injury-free with one exception—Rich Taylor, a back, who suffered a broken wrist in NE-Lincoln High game earlier in the season.

Ken Forbes, Ron Steele, Jim Haberman and Junior Thomas are ready to display their old backfield magic.

On the Fairbury side of the ledger, Bruce Tippin and Jim Likens will be the big hope of the Jeffs.

Probable starting lineups:

NORTHEAST	Pos.	FAIRBURY
Nory Holmerson	LE	Darrell Beach
Roberts or Payer	LT	Gary Longfield
Jack Childress	LG	Jack Kraus
Pedro Aranda	C	Irv Pfeiffer
Don Hammond	RG	Jack Ryan
Mary Kirby	RT	Voits or Turk
Ed Hinderks	RE	Dave Tullin
Dean Kurth	QB	Howard Thrum
Bruce Tippin	LB	Haberman or Forbes
Jim Likens	RH	Ron Steele
Roger Fisher	FB	Junior Thomas

Final score: Harrison 108, West Memphis 0.

Cut 'Em To Ribbons

Local Entry Rates In KC Horse Show

KANSAS CITY (P)—Dorothy MacLeod of Chicago, brought a little bay gelding named Owl through the difficult skyscraper course Thursday to win the American Royal Horse Show event with only two and one-half faults in the jumpoff.

Second place went to War Jester with seven and one-half faults in the jumpoff. The animal was ridden by Jim Boomer, son of the owner, Lowell Boomer of Lincoln, Neb.

Homecoming At Iowa

IOWA CITY, Ia. (P)—The Iowa Hawkeyes rounded out preparations for their Homecoming football game with Ohio State here Saturday with a lengthy no-contact workout Thursday.

The Hawks will be without the services of two regulars, Jim Milani, a halfback, and Pete Spanjers, defensive guard, trainer Doyle Allsup said. Spanjers hurt his knee against Wisconsin last week, and Milani reinjured his knee.

Hunt Suffers Sprain
On Way To Library

By The Associated Press
BOULDER, Colo.—Roger Hunt, first string offensive guard for Colorado, Thursday night tried to smash a six-all, pro-college football game in the 13th Annual All-Star basketball classic.

The Harlem Globetrotters will face the New York Celtics in a curtain raiser.

He wanted to get a book before the library closed and was thrown for a loss by a small irrigation ditch. The injury suffered in the cause of hunger for knowledge wasn't expected to slow him up against Nebraska here Saturday.

Otherwise the Buffs went through a light workout and did not scrimmage Thursday readying for the Big Seven game.

AMES, Ia.—With final emphasis on defense, the Iowa State Cyclones concluded drills Thursday for Saturday's Big Seven football game at Missouri.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Coach Don Faurot wound up preparations Thursday for the University of Missouri's meeting with Iowa State here Saturday with half a dozen of his gridmen still on the doubtful list, including his ace quarterback and ball carrier, Jim Hook.

Hook, who suffered a broken nose in scrimmage Wednesday, was out of the hospital Thursday and probably will play against the Cyclones with a protective plastic mask, but Faurot was far from optimistic about his performance.

The Tigers will not practice Friday, but the Iowans, arriving here by bus Friday afternoon, are expected to stage a brief pre-game workout.

NORMAN, Okla.—Coach Bud Wilkinson displayed genuine concern over his Oklahoma football squad Thursday.

"I'm afraid they won't play a good game, and Kansas State keyed high could knock them off," he said, adding: "Pittsburgh did it to Notre Dame."

Wilkinson ran his charges through all their paces. He had them running signals, kicking extra points, punting, blocking and tackling. There was no scrimmage.

Mantle Checked Again
FT. SILL, Okla. (AP)—Army doctors completed a medical examination of Mickey Mantle Thursday and then announced that any report on the New York Yankee baseball star's fitness for military service must come later from the Oklahoma City recruiting office.

Thin Prep Football Slate Features Some Top Tilts

BY JIM CLARK
Star Sports Staff Member

A SLIM prep slate is in the offing tonight due to the annual Teachers Convention that started Thursday morning, but among the few being offered several have important bearing on the outcome of conference races.

The Northeast Rockets and the Fairbury Jeffs clash at Fairbury to determine the Mid-East conference championship. The Rockets will be favored, but Fairbury could make it a tough ball game.

The Broken Bow Indians, Class B leaders, can wrap up the Northern Trans-Nebraska crown by stopping Loup City on the Indians home turf. The Red Raiders have dropped their last three tilts and are expected to give the Indians little trouble in taking the conference spoils.

Defending Champion Lincoln High has a home engagement with the Omaha South Packers in a game that could offer thrills and spills for all concerned. After dropping their first three games, the aroused Packers have bounced back to whip Central and North-east.

Cozad, second rated team in Class B, gets the nod in its home engagement with the Holdrege Dusters. The Haymakers have racked up two impressive wins after dropping a slim one point decision to Curtis.

The Scottsbluff Bearcats play host to the North Platte Bulldogs tonight, in a game that should leave the Bearcats as the sole contenders for honors in the Western Division of the Big Ten Conference.

Fourth rated Grand Island entertains Hastings in another Big Ten tilt. The Islanders have received only one setback to date, but could have trouble with the improving Tigers.

KU, Laker Cagers In All-Star Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Coach Phog Allen's hand-picked campus squad and the Minneapolis Lakers clash before a capacity 18,000 at the Chicago Stadium Friday night trying to smash a six-all, pro-college football game in the 13th Annual All-Star basketball classic.

The Harlem Globetrotters will face the New York Celtics in a curtain raiser.

Meeting in Norfolk, District 3 teachers noted that the present rule was that a high school athlete could not compete after he was 19 years old.

The group also favored reclassification of schools in tournaments so that attendance within the districts could be stabilized. They asked that each team be assigned a specific district.

At present, the teachers said, some teams on the fringe of a boundary line have an opportunity to go to tournaments where they think their chances of winning are easier.

Supt. C. C. Andersen, Madison, was elected to a 3-year term on the NSAA board of control, and George Campbell, Lynch, was named as his alternate.

C. A. Carkoski, Hartington, was named to a 3-year term on the district managing committee, with Supt. A. G. Peterson, Plainview, as an alternate.

The following were named to represent District 3 at the delegate assembly in Lincoln in December:

Kearney, Improved NWU In NCC Tussle Tonight

KEARNEY, Neb. — Kearney College Field. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

The game will pit the once-beaten Antelopes, a contender for second place conference honors, against a fast-improving Wesleyan team which virtually lifted Doane college out of the race for loop laurels with a 14-13 upset victory last Saturday.

Kearney looms as a two-touchdown favorite on a basis of comparative scores.

Coach Charley Foster has a talented, veteran backfield combination playing behind a rugged line. Seniors George Leggett, Bill James and Dick Elm and Sophomore Dale Taylor form the fine Antelope quartet and Freshman Dale Portis has proved to be a first-rate yardage producer.

However, the biggest Kearney threat against Roy Robertson's Plainmen may be the pass-snagging Hinkle brothers — Herman and Glen — and rugged flanker Louis Steuckrath who make the Antelope aerial game effective.

The probable starters:

Wesleyan Pos Kearney
Marts (163) L E G. Hinkle (153)
VanCleave (192) L T Robbs (192)
Becker (190) L G Cavanaugh (185)
Thompson (179) C Shields (179)
Wilham (182) R G VanMeter (173)
Carriker (181) R T Yfe (170)
Wittman (189) R E H. Hinkle (153)
Neyer (188) Q B Taylor (160)
Hultquist (179) L B Leggett (170)
Reed (172) R B James (153)
Nelson (200) F B Elm (193)

At Hastings, District 4 Nebraska coaches named Bob Gregory, Grand Island basketball coach, as president, succeeding Roy Basset, Hastings.

Other officers named included Jerry Lee, Grand Island, vice president, and Steve Gaines, Grand Island, secretary-treasurer. The 1953 meeting was awarded to Grand Island.

The group voted 39-1 in favor of having the mile run in one section in each class instead of two sections. Class A and B coaches also favored introduction of a two-mile relay in the state meet. Class C and D coaches voted against it.

The coaches, by a vote of 35-0, agreed that high schools should be classified as follows: the top 32 in Class A, the next 64 in Class B, the next 128 in Class C, and all others in Class D.

Grid Cards Get Hecker
CHICAGO (INS)—The Cardinals, Chicago pro-football team, announced Thursday they had obtained Halfback Bob Hecker from the Los Angeles Rams.

Henry Grunewald Cited On 22 Counts Of Contempt

WASHINGTON (INS) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, tight-lipped friend of Washington big shots, was indicted Thursday on 22 counts of contempt of Congress for his refusal to testify in the tax scandal probe.

A District of Columbia Federal Grand Jury returned the sweeping indictment as a Brooklyn judge pondered Grunewald's charge that a scandal — probing Grand Jury there was playing politics in a manner involving GOP vice presidential candidate Richard Nixon.

Grunewald demanded that the Brooklyn jurors be restrained from asking him whether he contributed to Nixon's 1950 senatorial campaign. He asserted he had been questioned not only about Nixon but about Sens Brewster (R-Me), Young (R-ND) and "other political personages in Washington."

The Washington Grand Jury accused "The Dutchman" of contempt of Congress in four separate appearances. If convicted, he faces a possible maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and a year in jail for each of the 22 counts.

The indictment accused Grunewald of contempt in refusing to say whether he knew Charles Oliphant, who resigned under fire as chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and of clamming up on discussions he may have had about tax cases.

Grunewald also was accused of ignoring a congressional subpoena for his financial records and of refusing to give the House Tax-Probe Subcommittee even his full name.

The 60-year-old "mystery man," long a colorful figure in Washington, is under orders to reappear next Tuesday before the Brooklyn Grand Jury, which is investigating tax frauds, corruption and bribery.

Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo will rule Tuesday on Grunewald's petition for a restraining order against "political" questions by the Brooklyn grand jurors.

Brewster, since defeated for re-nomination, told House investigators last March that he gave Grunewald $10,000 in 1950 to be passed along to Nixon and Young for use in their primary election campaigns.

Brewster, who then was chairman of the GOP Senate Campaign Committee, said he acted through Grunewald because of a party ban on direct contributions to senators involved in primary contests. He denied there was anything "improper or irregular."

In his complaint against the Brooklyn Grand Jury, Grunewald made what some observers construed as oblique reference to the recent furor over Nixon's $18,000 "expense fund." He declared the grand jurors appear to want to "satisfy public clamor of some kind."

Government Releases Building Materials For Air Terminal

The Civil Aeronautics Authority Thursday authorized "use of materials under government control," for the $387,000 civilian air terminal project at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The CAA is "understood to be the final authorizing agency for the release of these critical materials as a claimant agency of the National Production Authority," Erickson said.

No federal money is involved in the authorization, as CAA funds are not permitted to be used at craft parking apron, taxiways, an Air Force installation. The Lincoln municipal airport was reactivated as an Air Force base on Oct. 21.

'Angels' Flyers On Air Show Program Here

An air show and open house at the Lincoln Naval Air Station Sunday, Nov. 2, will feature the Navy's "Blue Angels," nationally famous precision flying team.

With the air show, scheduled at 2:30 p.m., Air Station personnel will show different types of Naval aircraft to Lincoln residents. A display of survival equipment and a demonstration in aircraft crash-fire fighting is also on the program.

Organized at Jacksonville, Fla., in 1946, the flying team has been demonstrating precision tactical techniques of Naval aviation to Naval personnel and to the public.

Disbanded at the outbreak of the Korean War, all the pilots were assigned to units in the Far East. Returning to the States, team members have recently reorganized and are now embarked on another series of cross-country tours.

The aircraft used in the formation routine is the sleek Grumman F9F-5 "Panther" jet. This is one of the Navy's newest carrier-based jet fighters, with a top speed of well over 600 miles per hour.

Visitors to the Naval Air Station will be admitted free, starting at noon.

Grammer Is Convicted Of First Degree Murder In Wife's Death

BALTIMORE, (INS)—G. Edward Grammer, New York businessman, was convicted Thursday of first degree murder in the "almost perfect" slaying of his wife, Judge Herman M. Moser, who must sentence Grammer either to hang or to life imprisonment, delayed pronouncement of the penalty to permit the defense to file a motion for a new trial.

Grammer was found guilty of fatally beating his wife, Dorothy May, mother of his three little girls, in a murder plot masked as an auto wreck.

The state contended that his motive in the bizarre slaying was his "hopeless love" for Mathilda Mizibrocky, beautiful, Canadian-born United Nations career girl who was the prosecution's star witness.

Miss Mizibrocky, whose record with the U.N. included service in Japan and Korea, testified that she believed Grammer to be un-

ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

Then Lewis' miners began acting up... that's another sign to get the oil burner adjusted even if it contains no political portent.

It seems to be getting cold everywhere, even on those back platforms.

QUIRKS

AN ALLIED AIR BASE IN KOREA—An American pilot finds that it's the peaceful people who get shot at the most.

Capt. Claude W. Wilson of F Smith, Ark., wailed:

"Out of 47 missions I have flown over North Korea I have been shot at on 46 of them."

"I can fly over places where there has been no flak for months and get fired on. The next day another pilot won't get a peep out of them."

Capt. Wilson flies an unarmed RB-26 weather reconnaissance plane.

Chest Campaign Over Half-Way Mark

Funds in the Lincoln Community Chest-Red Cross campaign went past the half-way mark Thursday—or 57 per cent toward the final goal of $487,653.

A total of $47,946 was added to funds at the fourth day's report luncheon held at the Chamber of Commerce. The grand total to date is $265,315.

A summary of Thursday reports follows:

Division A (advance gifts) John Lawlor, John Agee and John McGreer, Leaders $22,073, or a grand total to date of $156,926.

Division C (employees) John M. Spray, Leader $24,450, or a grand total of $99,662.

Division W (residential) Mrs. W. Avon Fraser, Leader $1,423 or a grand total of $8,555.

General Chairman Walter Henrion felt pleased over the progress to date but warned the workers that they were still far from the ultimate goal which was only little more than was raised by the Chest and Red Cross last year.

Confident

He expressed confidence in the ou, come if workers would make good and proper coverage of the prospects. He pointed to the good organizational work being done by the construction division under the direction of James Critchfield, Marvin Robinson, Francis Libershall and Garrett Vryheid in promoting extra hours work for the Chest and Red Cross next Tuesday.

John M. Spray, general of the employees division, urged his workers to check their returns with their master list in order to see that reports are turned in at once.

The list of firms whose employees have met their quotas is beginning to increase. Up to

Youth Fined For Possessing Beer

For the second time in two days, four teen-age Lincoln youths have been picked up for having beer in their possession.

Thursday in Municipal Court, one of the youths, 17-years-old, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 for having possession, while three others, all 18, pleaded not guilty and were placed on $50 appearance bonds. These four were apprehended Wednesday night.

Four other youths were picked up Tuesday night and charges filed against one for having in his possession a can of beer. The one youth charged was 17 years old, similar in age to the one 18, were dismissed of charges being picked up Wednesday night. The cause only one can of beer was three others with the group, all in their possession.
